

CHASE RICHBURG

TEXAS SINGER SONGWRITER

With all the talk about the changing sound of country music, all you have to do is listen to the music that Nashville Recording Artist, Chase Richburg, writes and sings to know that traditional music is always at the heart of it.

With inspirations such as Earl Thomas Conley, Ronnie Milsap, Alan Jackson, Keith Whitley, and Eddie Rabbit, you don't have to turn back the clock to hear the captivating country sound of the 80's and 90's.

Chase Richburg released his highly anticipated debut Nashville single, "He'll Never be a Lawyer", on Sept. 27th, 2024. It's safe to say 90's Honky Tonk Country music is "cool again" after "He'll Never be a Lawyer" racked up over 750k views on all social media platforms leading up to the song's release.

Chase's sophomore single "I Need a Heart Break" released Nov. 22nd, 2024 is "what country music is supposed to sound like," says Chase, "brokenhearted, drinking music about real life." With over 1M social media views (Facebook, TikTok, and Instagram), Chase plans to release his renowned debut album in the spring of 2025.
